Get to know the new Via Webapp update

What's New?

WebApp has a new look and feel so your riders get an easy, consistent (dare we say delightful) experience across both the rider and web apps.

Via is making a design update to your services' Rider Web Application. This update will change the User Interface so it's aligned with the same designs as the Rider Mobile Application. Additionally, if your service allows pre-booking, the "Book Return" option will now also be available in the Web Application, just as it is currently in the Rider Mobile Application, to allow easier trip booking for your Riders.

Explore the new designs in the pages below!

Note: these screens show generic Via branding instead of your service' branding; however, your Web Application will stay branded to your service, as it is now.
